DO YOU KNOW THAT...

Resources to Write for . . .

The National Association of State Boards of Education has two 1985 publications recommended for supporters of sexuality education in the schools. Creating Family Life Education Programs in the Public Schools: A Guide for State Education Policymakers (32 pages, $4.00), by Susan N. Wilson, encourages action on the issue of children's need for increased education about sexuality and interpersonal relationships. It includes sections on assessing the need for family life education, assuming state leadership, defining the policy, building support for the policy, listening and responding to the opposition, using the media constructively, and tapping a national support network. Creating and Implementing Family Life Education in New Jersey (92 pages, $10.00), written by Lana Muraskin and Paul A. Jar-gowsky, is a study of the development and implementation of the state's family life education mandate that took effect in 1983. Findings of case studies undertaken in six local school districts throughout New Jersey are presented. Both publications can be ordered from: NASBE, 701 North Fairfax Street, Suite 340, Alexandria, VA 22314. Prices include p/h.

Creative Child Press has produced a series of children's books for sexual abuse prevention education. There are four coloring books (1985) written by Robin Lenett and Dana Barthelme: Kids Have Rights Too!, My Body is My Own!, Sometimes It's OK to Tell Secre 1, and What You Should Do When. . . . Also available are a coloring book and an activity book, both published in 1984, entitled It's OK To Say No! Each book is priced at $1.95 and can be ordered from: Playmore and Waldman Publishing Corp., 200 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10010.

School-Based Health Clinics: An Emerging Approach to Improving Adolescent Health and Addressing Teenage Pregnancy (April 1985) is a 24-page report, authored by Douglas Kirby, based on a 1984 conference. An overview of existing programs is given, as well as suggestions for implementation of new programs. Addresses of 17 U.S. school-based clinics are included. Order from: Center for Population Options, 1012 14th Street, N.W., Suite 1200, Washington, D.C. 20005 for $3.00 (incl. p/h). Bulk rates available.

Especially for You (1983) is comprised of two books: Curriculum Guidelines/Teacher's Manual (115 pages), and Student Workbook (85 pages). Judith L. Keller and Diane Fletcher authored this program for pre-adolescents (ages 9-12), which has been implemented in Virginia. The curriculum addresses human reproduction, physical growth and development, emotional development, and parenthood, including pregnancy prevention. Sample classroom materials for students and parents, a bibliography, and audio-visual and visual aids information are also contained in the teacher's manual. It is priced at $17.50 (+$3.00 p/h). The student workbook, which is imaginatively illustrated and organized, is priced at $4.00 (+$.75 p/h); bulk rates are available. Order from: EFY Publications, 1107 Colonial Avenue, Norfolk, VA 23507.

Fathering and Men's Issues Films (1985), is a 17-page filmography compiled by David Giveans, who plans to update it on a regular basis. In this annotated compilation, 50 films are listed along with names and addresses of their distributors. Single copies are available for $5.00 from: Nurturing Press, 187 Caselli Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94114. Bulk rates are available on request.
